Scholarships are provided by the University, alumni, and private donors and are awarded on the basis of academic excellence and promise of future achievement. Financial need is an additional factor for some scholarship awards. Committee usually makes selection of recipients.

The University of Utah awards merit-based scholarships and scholarships based on financial need. Eligibility for academic scholarships for students entering college from high school is based on the following:

*High school grade point average for grades nine through eleven

*Scores on the American College Test (ACT) or the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT). The University prefers ACT scores but will accept SAT scores.

Four-year renewable scholarships must be applied for during the senior year of high school by February

1. Consideration will not be given in subsequent years, even if the student is an entering freshman.

Merit, leadership, and diversity scholarship application deadline is February 1

The departmental scholarship application deadline for all students is generally February 1. Some departments awarding departmental scholarships use a deadline other than February 1. For specific deadlines, refer to the University of Utah website at: <http://www.sa.utah.edu/fiance>

Deadline for scholarships based on financial need is March 15.

All scholarship applicants must have completed the application process for admission to the University of Utah by their scholarship application deadline. December 15, is the preferred filing date for admission to the University.
